Tuck into an Eggs-travagant Easter Buffet at Panda Café

A variety of colourful Easter-themed dishes will be featured in this egg-stra festive spread

[March 15, 2018] Panda Café is springing into action with a classic and delectable Eggs-travagant Easter Buffet this month, featuring vibrantly hued dishes that are especially appropriate for the occasion.

Diners will get to choose from an array of enticing appetizers, like the refreshing Easter Shrimp and Kumquat Salad made from a colourful combination of pink shrimp, orange kumquat, and green cucumbers. The Greek Potato Salad that comes with cucumber, green peppers, onions, chilies, and generous heaps of quintessentially Greek feta cheese is also not to be missed.

The Coloured Boiled Eggs with their beautifully dyed pastel shells, as well as the Easter Bunny and Chicks Deviled Eggs (garnished to look just like real little chicklets — think sesame seeds for eyes and carrots for cockscombs), are delightful sights that taste as good as they look.

For mains, the crispy and succulent Roasted Easter Lamb Rack, roasted lightly then topped with cheese, bread crumbs and vanilla before a final bake in the oven, is one of the signatures of the evening. Another dish to watch for is the Cherry Glazed Easter Ham, made from savoury preserved whole ham leg and covered in a glossy layer of distinctly sweet cherry jam (using cherries imported straight from the UK).

The buffet will also showcase a bevy of desserts, from a Bunny Carrot Cake (complete with edible bunny on top), to Chocolate Tiramisu, Hot Cross Bun Chocolate Pudding, and other cocoa-based goodies. Last but not least: a DIY Cupcake workshop will allow diners to create their own favourable cupcakes.
